

Countdown To The Academy Awards

Posted on February 20, 2015 by usdr in Arts and Culture, Entertainment, Lifestyle, Movies //

By USDR

This week Michael O'Connor, celebrity stylist and television personality, will host StyleLab's jewelry event for Academy Award nominees, presenters and stylists at a private venue in Los Angeles. Every season, O'Connor curates a selection of one-of-a-kind jewelry pieces from world-renowned designers for celebrities to borrow for the red carpet. From sparkling diamond ear cuffs to rare black opal necklaces and classic pearls, O'Connor will accessorize Hollywood's leading stars with the most exquisite, highest quality jewelry.

O'Connor forecasts that colorful gemstones, statement necklaces, large drop earrings at the Academy Awards on Sunday.

Here are his red carpet trend predictions:

Edgy Earrings

Ear cuffs and climbers are all the rage on the red carpet. For the Oscars, we'll see them taken to another level with major diamonds and spectacular designs. Dena Kemp crafted a snake ear cuff with over 2 carats of diamonds, set in 18k gold. This would look stunning on Rosamund Pike.

Susan Eisen showcases a hand-fabricated pair of ear climbers made with 3 carats of diamonds, set in 14k recycled white gold. Priced at $17,800, these earrings are the perfect fit for fashion's "It Girl" Felicity Jones.

Susan Eisen