While Emmys 2015 were a couple of weeks ago, I was gathering all the information and imagery that went with the Emmys and various events surrounding it. The week preceding the Emmys (like all red carpet awards show) are packed with various invitations for events as well as appointments. One of my favorite suite is the STYLELAB suite for the gems being lent to celebrities! Stylist Michael O'Connor curates the latest trends in jewelry and from niche designers who have unusual pieces that reflect red carpet style for that kind of event.

SUSAN EISEN – Hand fabricated one-of-a-kind earrings from natural twig forms including watermelon tourmaline slabs gemstones with 2.75 ct. of diamonds. Set in recycled 14k white and yellow gold. Priced at $31,000.
